

Invest in your retirement—and yourself—today, with help from
The GWU 457(f) Plan and Fidelity.

YOUR GUIDE TO GETTING STARTED

Frequently asked questions about your plan.

Here are answers to questions you may have about the key features, benefits, and rules of your plan.

How do I get started?

Your 457(f) account has already been set up for you. This means that an Employer contribution has already been posted to your account into one of the Vanguard Target Retirement Fund options--target retirement date funds. Please refer to the default age table in the Investment Options section of this guide for details. You can elect to reallocate that contribution to any other fund offered to GWU participants as described in this brochure. If you would like to reallocate those contributions, please contact the Fidelity Retirement Benefits Line at 1-800-343-0860, or you can make the change online at netbenefits.com/gw, otherwise those funds will remain in a Vanguard Target Retirement Fund.

How much will GWU contribute?

GWU will contribute a "Restoration" benefit equal to amounts that were unable to be contributed during the plan year to the GWU 401(a) Plan due to IRS compensation limits. GWU will verify if you have maximized your employee contributions to the 457(b) Plan ($23,500 in 2025). If you have not, GWU will make additional "Restoration" contributions to the 457(b) Plan. Any contributions that exceed the 457(b) Plan limit will be contributed to The GWU 457(f) Plan.

When am I vested?

Employer contributions into the 457(f) Restoration Plan are fully vested after the later of attaining age 50 and having met 5 years of service starting with your date of employment.

Any contributions made to your account after you become vested, will be classified as after-tax and reported as taxable income on your

W-2. Any after-tax contributions are not subject to be taxed again, only the earnings are subject to taxes when distributed.

What are my investment options?

To help you meet your investment goals, the Plan offers you a range of options. You can select a mix of investment options that best suits your goals, time horizon, and risk tolerance. The various investment options available through the Plan include conservative, moderately conservative, and aggressive funds. A complete description of the Plan's investment options and their performance, as well as planning tools to help you choose an appropriate mix, are available online.

What if I don't make an investment election?

We encourage you to take an active role in The GWU 457(f) Plan and choose investment options that best suit your goals, time horizon, and risk tolerance. If you do not select specific investment options in the Plan, your contributions will be invested in the Vanguard Target Retirement Fund with the target retirement date closest to the year you might retire, based on your current age and assuming a retirement age of 65, at the direction of GWU.

If no date of birth or an invalid date of birth is on file at Fidelity, your contributions may be invested in the Vanguard Target Retirement Income Fund. More information about the Vanguard Target Retirement Fund options can be found online.

Target Date Funds are an asset mix of stocks, bonds and other investments that automatically becomes more conservative as the fund approaches its target retirement date and beyond. Principal invested is not guaranteed.

Can I take a loan from my account?

Loans are not available in this Plan.

Can I make withdrawals?

457(f) withdrawals are available in a lump sum after you are vested and have terminated from employment.

How will I be taxed on my distribution?

Once you become vested, all contributions and attributable earnings become taxable to you, at that time, and are reported as taxable income in the year in which you became vested. Any future contributions made to your account after you are vested will be classified as after-tax money. Any money coded after-tax, will not be taxed again when distributed. The earnings will be taxable at the time of withdrawal, and will be reported as income on a Form W-2 issued by GWU in the year the account is distributed.

Can I move money from another retirement plan into my account in The GWU 457(f) Plan?

Transfers/Rollovers into The GWU 457(f) Plan are not available.

How do I designate my beneficiary?

If you have not already selected your beneficiaries, or if you have experienced a life-changing event such as a marriage, divorce, birth of a child, or a death in the family, it's time to consider your beneficiary designations. Fidelity's Online Beneficiaries Service, offers a straightforward, convenient process that takes just minutes. To make your elections, click on the "Profile & Settings" icon in the upper right-hand corner, then select "Beneficiaries" and follow the online instructions.

Where can I find information about exchanges and other plan features?

Find information about your account and learn about exchanges, withdrawals, and more online. Additional information can be obtained by calling the Fidelity Retirement Benefits Line at 1-800-343-0860.

How do I update my mail preferences?

Receiving communication by email offers you greater convenience and will help keep you up to date on topics related to your retirement plan. Log in to Fidelity NetBenefits® by going to netbenefits.com/gw, and go to "Your Profile," click on "email address," and enter your personal email address.

How do I set-up a confidential consultation with a Fidelity Representative?

To set-up a confidential consultation with your dedicated Fidelity Representative, you may call Fidelity's reservation line at 1-800-642-7131 or go online to getguidance.fidelity.com.

What kind of online retirement planning tools are available?

Fidelity offers a host of retirement planning tools available conveniently at your desk. Once logged into Fidelity NetBenefits® at netbenefits.com/gw, click on the "Tools & Learning" link on the main page, then click "eLearning catalog."

Investment Options

Before investing in any mutual fund, consider the investment objectives, risks, charges, and expenses. Contact Fidelity for a mutual fund prospectus or, if available, a summary prospectus containing this information. Read it carefully.

Here is a list of investment options for The GWU 457(f) Plan. For up-to-date performance information and other fund specifics, go to netbenefits.com/gw.

Target date investments are generally designed for investors expecting to retire around the year indicated in each investment's name. The investments are managed to gradually become more conservative over time. The investment risks of each target date investment change over time as its asset allocation changes. They are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high yield, small cap and foreign securities. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after their target dates.

Description of Investment Options

Driehaus Emerging Markets Growth Fund Institutional Class

VRS Code: 882669

Gross Expense Ratio: 1.09% as of 04/30/2024

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to maximize capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: The fund uses a growth style of investment in equity securities, including common stocks and other equity securities of issuers, and under normal market conditions, invests substantially all (no less than 80%) of its net assets (plus the amount of borrowings for investment purposes) in emerging markets companies. There are no specific limitations on the percentage of assets that may be invested in securities of issuers located in any one country at a given time; the fund may invest significant assets in any single emerging market country.

Fund Risk: Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks, all of which may be magnified in emerging markets. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing in emerging markets.
- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments and/or international investments in developed countries with investments in developing countries, which can behave differently.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The analysis on these pages may be based, in part, on adjusted historical returns for periods prior to the class's actual inception of 07/17/2017. These calculated returns reflect the historical performance of the oldest share class of the fund, with an inception date of 12/31/1997, adjusted to reflect the fees and expenses of this share class (when this share class's fees and expenses are higher.) Please refer to a fund's prospectus for information regarding fees and expenses. These adjusted historical returns are not actual returns. Calculation methodologies utilized by Morningstar may differ from those applied by other entities, including the fund itself.

Fidelity® Growth Company K6 Fund

VRS Code: 003458

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.45% as of 01/29/2024

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Investing in companies that Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC (FMR) believes have above-average growth potential (stocks of these companies are often called "growth" stocks). Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and other types of stocks and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated with growth-oriented stocks.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Total Bond Fund

VRS Code: 000820

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.44% as of 10/30/2024

Fund Objective: Seeks a high level of current income.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in debt securities of all types and repurchase agreements for those securities. Using the Bloomberg U.S. Universal Bond Index as a guide in allocating assets across the investment-grade, high yield, and emerging market asset classes. Investing up to 20% of assets in lower-quality debt securities. Managing the fund to have similar overall interest rate risk to the index. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Allocating assets across different asset classes, market sectors, and maturities. Analyzing the credit quality of the issuer, the issuer's potential for success, the credit, currency, and economic risks of the security and its issuer, security-specific features, current and potential future valuation, and trading opportunities to select investments. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default), options, and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines).

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk, liquidity risk, call risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® U.S. Bond Index Fund

VRS Code: 002326

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.025% as of 10/30/2024

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the aggregate price and interest performance of the debt securities in the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of the fund's assets in bonds included in the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index. Using statistical sampling techniques based on duration, maturity, interest rate sensitivity, security structure, and credit quality to attempt to replicate the returns of the Index using a smaller number of securities. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default) and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines).

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund can invest in securities that may have a leveraging effect (such as derivatives and forward-settling securities) which may increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

- The Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index is an unmanaged market value-weighted index for U.S. dollar denominated investment-grade fixed-rate debt issues, including government, corporate, asset-backed, and mortgage-backed securities with maturities of at least one year.
- Duration is a measure of a security's price sensitivity to changes in interest rates. Duration differs from maturity in that it considers a security's interest payments in addition to the amount of time until the security reaches maturity, and also takes into account certain maturity shortening features (e.g., demand features, interest rate resets, and call options) when applicable. Securities with longer durations generally tend to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than securities with shorter durations. A fund with a longer average duration generally can be expected to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than a fund with a shorter average duration.
- Returns prior to May 4, 2011 are those of the Premium Class and reflect the Premium Class' expense ratio. Had the Institutional Premium Class' expense ratio been reflected, total returns would have been higher.

MFS Mid Cap Growth Fund Class R6

VRS Code: 872417

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.67% as of 12/27/2024

Fund Objective: The investment seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: The fund invests at least 80% of the fund's net assets in issuers with medium market capitalizations. MFS generally defines medium market capitalization issuers as issuers with market capitalizations similar to those of issuers included in the Russell Midcap[®] Growth Index over the last 13 months at the time of purchase.

Fund Risk: Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated both with growth-oriented stocks and with smaller companies.

Footnotes:

MFS Mid Cap Value Fund Class R6

VRS Code: 894990

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.63% as of 01/26/2024

Fund Objective: The investment seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: The fund normally invests at least 80% of the fund's net assets in issuers with medium market capitalizations. The adviser generally defines medium market capitalization issuers as issuers with market capitalizations similar to those of issuers included in the Russell Midcap[®] Value Index over the last 13 months at the time of purchase. It normally invests the fund's assets primarily in equity securities.

Fund Risk: Value stocks can perform differently than other types of stocks and can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is comfortable with value-style investments and the potentially greater volatility of investments in smaller companies.

Vanguard Federal Money Market Fund Investor Shares

VRS Code: 845481

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.11% as of 12/20/2024

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to provide current income while maintaining liquidity and a stable share price of $1.

Fund Strategy: The fund invests primarily in high-quality, short-term money market instruments. Under normal circumstances, at least 80% of the fund's assets are invested in securities issued by the U.S. government and its agencies and instrumentalities. The adviser maintains a dollar-weighted average maturity of 60 days or less and a dollar-weighted average life of 120 days or less. The fund generally invests 100% of its assets in U.S. government securities and therefore will satisfy the 99.5% requirement for designation as a government money market fund.

Fund Risk: You could lose money by investing in a money market fund. Although the fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. An investment in the fund is not a bank account and is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. The fund's sponsor is not required to reimburse the fund for losses, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the fund at any time, including during periods of market stress. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who has a low tolerance for investment risk and who wishes to keep the value of his or her investment relatively stable.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her bond and stock fund holdings in order to reach a particular asset allocation.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Weighted average maturity (WAM) is the weighted average of all the maturities of the securities held in a fund. WAM for money market funds can be used as a measure of sensitivity to interest rate changes. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. WAM for money market funds is based on the dollar-weighted average length of time until principal payments must be paid, taking into account any call options exercised by the issuer and any permissible maturity shortening devices, such as demand features and interest rate resets. For bond funds, WAM can be used as a measure of sensitivity to the markets. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. The WAM calculation for bond funds excludes interest rate resets and only takes into account issuer call options if it is probable that the issuer of the instrument will take advantage of such options.
- For money market funds, weighted average life (WAL) is the weighted average of the life of the securities held in a fund or portfolio, and can be used as a measure of sensitivity to changes in liquidity and/or credit risk. Generally, the higher the value, the greater the sensitivity. WAL is based on the dollar-weighted average length of time until principal payments must be paid, taking into account any call options exercised by the issuer and any permissible maturity shortening features other than interest rate resets. For money market funds, the difference between weighted average maturity (WAM) and WAL is that WAM takes into account interest rate resets and WAL does not. WAL for money market funds is not the same as WAL of a mortgage- or asset-backed security.

Vanguard FTSE Social Index Fund Institutional SharesVRS Code: 843131Gross Expense Ratio: 0.12% as of 12/20/2024Fund Objective: The investment seeks to track the performance of the FTSE U.S. Choice Index Index that measures the investment return of large- and mid-capitalization stocks.Fund Strategy: The index is composed of large- and mid-cap stocks of companies that are screened for certain environmental, social, and corporate governance (ESG) criteria by the index provider. The manager attempts to replicate the target index by investing all, or substantially all, of its assets in the stocks that make up the index, holding each stock in approximately the same proportion as its weighting in the index. It is non-diversified.Fund Risk: Value and growth stocks can perform differently from other types of stocks. Growth stocks can be more volatile. Value stocks can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. The Fund's sustainable investment strategy will affect the fund's exposure to certain issuers, industries, sectors, regions and countries and could cause the fund to sell or avoid securities that subsequently perform well. In addition, securities that do not meet the sustainable investing criteria could outperform those that do. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the volatility associated with investing in the stock market.

Vanguard High-Yield Corporate Fund Admiral SharesVRS Code: 844457Gross Expense Ratio: 0.12% as of 05/24/2024Fund Objective: The investment seeks to provide a high level of current income.Fund Strategy: The fund invests primarily in a diversified group of high-yielding, higher-risk corporate bonds-commonly known as "junk bonds"-with medium- and lower-range credit-quality ratings. It invests at least 80% of its assets in corporate bonds that are rated below Baa by Moody's Investors Service, Inc. (Moody's); have an equivalent rating by any other independent bond-rating agency; or, if unrated, are determined to be of comparable quality by the fund's advisor. The fund's high-yield bonds and loans mostly have short- and intermediate-term maturities.

Fund Risk: The fund may invest in lower-quality debt securities that involve greater risk of default or price changes due to potential changes in the credit quality of the issuer. In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone interested in a bond fund that provides the potential for both current income and share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core bond holdings with a bond investment that seeks higher returns from riskier bonds, and who can tolerate higher risk.

Vanguard Inflation-Protected Securities Fund Admiral Shares

VRS Code: 849268

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.1% as of 04/26/2024

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to provide inflation protection and income consistent with investment in inflation-indexed securities.

Fund Strategy: The fund invests at least 80% of its assets in inflation-indexed bonds issued by the U.S. government, its agencies and instrumentalities, and corporations. It may invest in bonds of any maturity; however, its dollar-weighted average maturity is generally expected to be in the range of 7 to 20 years. At a minimum, all bonds purchased by the fund will be rated investment-grade or, if unrated, will be considered by the advisor to be investment-grade.

Fund Risk: The interest payments of TIPS are variable, they generally rise with inflation and fall with deflation. In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income and who can tolerate more frequent changes in the size of income distributions than those usually found with more conservative bond funds.
- Someone who is seeking to supplement his or her core fixed-income holdings with a bond investment that is tied to changes in inflation.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Weighted average maturity (WAM) is the weighted average of all the maturities of the securities held in a fund. WAM for money market funds can be used as a measure of sensitivity to interest rate changes. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. WAM for money market funds is based on the dollar-weighted average length of time until principal payments must be paid, taking into account any call options exercised by the issuer and any permissible maturity shortening devices, such as demand features and interest rate resets. For bond funds, WAM can be used as a measure of sensitivity to the markets. Generally, the longer the maturity, the greater the sensitivity. The WAM calculation for bond funds excludes interest rate resets and only takes into account issuer call options if it is probable that the issuer of the instrument will take advantage of such options.

Vanguard Institutional Index Fund Institutional Plus Shares

VRS Code: 820745

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.02% as of 04/26/2024

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to track the performance of the S&P 500 Index that measures the investment return of large-capitalization stocks.

Fund Strategy: The fund employs an indexing investment approach designed to track the performance of the S&P 500 Index, a widely recognized benchmark of U.S. stock market performance that is dominated by the stocks of large U.S. companies. The advisor attempts to replicate the target index by investing all, or substantially all, of its assets in the stocks that make up the index, holding each stock in approximately the same proportion as its weighting in the index.

Fund Risk: Value and growth stocks can perform differently from other types of stocks. Growth stocks can be more volatile. Value stocks can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

Vanguard International Growth Fund Admiral Shares

VRS Code: 844552

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.26% as of 12/20/2024

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to provide long-term capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: The fund invests mainly in the stocks of companies located outside the United States and is expected to diversify its assets in countries across developed and emerging markets. In selecting stocks, the fund's advisors evaluate foreign markets around the world and choose large-, mid-, and small-capitalization companies considered to have above-average growth potential. The manager uses multiple investment advisors.

Fund Risk: Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks, all of which may be magnified in emerging markets. Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Vanguard International Value Fund Investor SharesVRS Code: 893552Gross Expense Ratio: 0.39% as of 02/27/2024Fund Objective: The investment seeks to provide long-term capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: The fund invests mainly in common stocks of companies located outside the United States that are considered by one of the funds advisors to be undervalued. Such stocks, called value stocks, often are out of favor in periods when investors are drawn to companies with strong prospects for growth. It invests in large-, mid-, and small-capitalization companies and is expected to diversify its assets in countries across developed and emerging markets. The fund uses multiple investment advisors.

Fund Risk: Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks, all of which may be magnified in emerging markets. Value stocks can perform differently than other types of stocks and can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. Vanguard Mid-Cap Index Fund Institutional SharesVRS Code: 821348Gross Expense Ratio: 0.04% as of 04/26/2024Fund Objective: The investment seeks to track the performance of the CRSP US Mid Cap Index that measures the investment return of mid-capitalization stocks.

Fund Strategy: The fund employs an indexing investment approach designed to track the performance of the CRSP US Mid Cap Index, a broadly diversified index of stocks of mid-size U.S. companies. The advisor attempts to replicate the target index by investing all, or substantially all, of its assets in the stocks that make up the index, holding each stock in approximately the same proportion as its weighting in the index.

Fund Risk: Value and growth stocks can perform differently from other types of stocks. Growth stocks can be more volatile. Value stocks can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the generally greater volatility of investments in smaller companies.

Footnotes:

Vanguard Real Estate Index Fund Institutional SharesVRS Code: 849961Gross Expense Ratio: 0.11% as of 05/24/2024

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to provide a high level of income and moderate long-term capital appreciation by tracking the performance of the MSCI US Investable Market Real Estate 25/50 Index that measures the performance of publicly traded equity REITs and other real estate-related investments.

Fund Strategy: The advisor attempts to track the index by investing all, or substantially all, of its assets-either directly or indirectly through a wholly owned subsidiary, which is itself a registered investment company-in the stocks that make up the index, holding each stock in approximately the same proportion as its weighting in the index. The fund is non-diversified.

Fund Risk: Real Estate is a cyclical industry that is sensitive to interest rates, economic conditions (both nationally and locally), property tax rates, and other factors. Changes in real estate values or economic downturns can have a significant negative effect on issuers in the real estate industry. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Sector funds can be more volatile because of their narrow concentration in a specific industry. In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Vanguard Target Retirement 2020 Fund

VRS Code: 841078

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.08% as of 01/31/2024

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to provide capital appreciation and current income consistent with its current asset allocation.

Fund Strategy: The fund invests in a mix of Vanguard mutual funds according to an asset allocation strategy designed for investors planning to retire and leave the workforce in or within a few years of 2020 (the target year). The fund's asset allocation will become more conservative over time, meaning that the percentage of assets allocated to stocks will decrease while the percentage of assets allocated to bonds and other fixed income investments will increase.

Fund Risk: The target date funds are designed for investors expecting to retire around the year indicated in each fund's name. The funds are managed to gradually become more conservative over time as they approach their target date. The investment risk of each target date fund changes over time as its asset allocation changes. They are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, and foreign securities. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after their target dates. Fund Strategy: The fund invests in a mix of Vanguard mutual funds according to an asset allocation strategy designed for investors planning to retire and leave the workforce in or within a few years of 2045 (the target year). The fund's asset allocation will become more conservative over time, meaning that the percentage of assets allocated to stocks will decrease while the percentage of assets allocated to bonds and other fixed income investments will increase.

Fund Risk: The target date funds are designed for investors expecting to retire around the year indicated in each fund's name. The funds are managed to gradually become more conservative over time as they approach their target date. The investment risk of each target date fund changes over time as its asset allocation changes. They are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, and foreign securities. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after their target dates. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment option that gradually becomes more conservative over time and who is willing to accept the volatility of the markets.
- Someone who is seeking a diversified mix of stocks, bonds, and short-term investments in one investment option or who does not feel comfortable making asset allocation choices over time.

Vanguard Target Retirement Income Fund

VRS Code: 847728

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.08% as of 01/31/2024

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to provide current income and some capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: The fund invests in a mix of Vanguard mutual funds according to an asset allocation strategy designed for investors currently in retirement. Its indirect bond holdings are a diversified mix of short-, intermediate-, and long-term U.S. government, U.S. agency, and investment-grade U.S. corporate bonds; inflation-protected public obligations issued by the U.S. Treasury; mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities; and government, agency, corporate, and securitized investment-grade foreign bonds issued in currencies other than the U.S. dollar.

Fund Risk: The fund is subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments. Fixed income investments carry issuer default and credit risk, inflation risk, and interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after retirement. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment option intended for people in retirement and who is willing to accept the volatility of diversified investments in the market.
- Someone who is seeking a diversified mix of stocks, bonds, and short-term investments in one investment option and looking primarily for the potential for income and, secondarily, for share-price appreciation.

Vanguard Total International Stock Index Fund Institutional Plus Shares

VRS Code: 877940

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.08% as of 02/27/2024

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to track the performance of a benchmark index that measures the investment return of stocks issued by companies located in developed and emerging markets, excluding the United States.

Fund Strategy: The manager employs an indexing investment approach designed to track the performance of the FTSE Global All Cap ex US Index, a float-adjusted market-capitalization-weighted index designed to measure equity market performance of companies located in developed and emerging markets, excluding the United States. The fund invests all, or substantially all, of its assets in the common stocks included in its target index.

Fund Risk: Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks, all of which may be magnified in emerging markets. Value and growth stocks can perform differently from other types of stocks. Growth stocks can be more volatile. Value stocks can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments with international investments, which can behave differently.
- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing overseas.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The FTSE Global All Cap ex US Index is part of a range of indices designed to help US investors benchmark their international investments. The index comprises large, mid and small cap stocks globally excluding the US.
- The analysis on these pages may be based, in part, on adjusted historical returns for periods prior to the class's actual inception of 11/30/2010. These calculated returns reflect the historical performance of the oldest share class of the fund, with an inception date of 04/29/1996, adjusted to reflect the fees and expenses of this share class (when this share class's fees and expenses are higher.) Please refer to a fund's prospectus for information regarding fees and expenses. These adjusted historical returns are not actual returns. Calculation methodologies utilized by Morningstar may differ from those applied by other entities, including the fund itself.

Vanguard Windsor™ Fund Admiral™ Shares

VRS Code: 845380

Gross Expense Ratio: 0.32% as of 02/27/2024

Fund Objective: The investment seeks to provide long-term capital appreciation and income.

Fund Strategy: The fund invests mainly in large- and mid-capitalization companies whose stocks are considered by an advisor to be undervalued. Undervalued stocks are generally those that are out of favor with investors and that the advisor believes are trading at prices that are below average in relation to measures such as earnings and book value. It uses multiple investment advisors.

Fund Risk: Value stocks can perform differently than other types of stocks and can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

A mutual fund expense ratio is the total annual fund or class operating expenses (before waivers or reimbursements) paid by the fund and stated as a percentage of the fund's total net assets. For other types of investments, the figure in the expense ratio field reflects similar information, but may have been calculated differently than for mutual funds. Mutual fund data comes from the fund's prospectus. For non-mutual fund investment options, the information has been provided by the plan sponsor, the investment option's manager, or the trustee. When no ratio is shown for these options, it is because none was available. There may be fees and expenses associated with the investment option. Expense information changes periodically. Please consult NetBenefits.com for updates.
