

Remember the following when completing your Beneficiary Designation form:

- Clearly identify your beneficiary(ies), providing each beneficiary’s full name, date of birth, Social Security number, address, and relationship to you.
- You can name primary and contingent beneficiaries.
 - Primary: The primary beneficiary is the individual(s) who will receive the insurance proceeds at the time of your death.
 - Contingent: A contingent beneficiary, or secondary beneficiary, is the individual(s) who will receive the insurance proceeds if the primary beneficiary(ies) dies before you. Naming a contingent beneficiary is important, as there may be circumstances in which the primary beneficiary does not outlive you.
- If you name more than one primary or contingent beneficiary, make sure the beneficiary percentages add up to 100 percent for each class of beneficiary (primary and contingent).
- Minor child: A minor child can be named as a beneficiary, but benefits cannot be released directly to the minor child. Benefits will be paid to the court-appointed guardian of the minor child’s estate (or property). Parents are not automatically the guardians of a minor’s estate. A parent may need to petition a local probate court where the child lives to be named guardian of the child’s estate.
- Make sure you sign and date the beneficiary designation form.
- If no beneficiary is named, or if no beneficiary survives you, settlement will be made as provided in the Group Contract.

To assist you, here are some examples of clear beneficiary designations.
